New traffic survey needed in Waveland

It thay again be time for the Mississippi State Highway De-partment to do a new traffic survey at the intersection of US-90

The increased number of accidents at the busy intersection, a fatality on October 8, 1981, all seem to lead to the fact there may be a need for turn signals: To our knowledge, it has been several years since the last traffic survey was taken at the intersection.

We know the installation of turn signals at the intersection of US-90 and Hwy 603 seems to have reduced the number of ac-

A survey had indicated a need for the turn signals and they were installed; but; highway engineers indicated at the time there was not enough traffic at US-90 and Waveland Avenue for the turn signals.

One thing we have noted is the tremendous reduction of accidents occuring at US-90 and Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis since the installation of the activated signals.

Waveland continues to grow, and the new development West of Waveland Avenue at US-90 should also increase the traffic even more. We hope the Highway Department will look into the Waveland Avenue and US-90 signals, as they may need up-
